As election of two members of the Sanitary Board is due next month, and in brief discussion which occurred at meeting of the Roard on Tuesday on the changes contemplated by Ithe Government in the law constituting the electorate, a little difference of opinion on the subject was film entitled "The Siege of Calais" was shown shown. About three years ago, when the last election t ok place, we published a letter written by Mr. SHELTON HOOPER, who was one of the candidates, which gave a classification of all persons who had the right to vote. The list included Members of Council, Civil Servants, Consuls not carrying art. on business, officers on full pay in the Naval and Military Services, masters of steamers and local pilots, besides common and special jurors and those who, either on account of the nature of their avocations or owing to infirmity or old age, are exempt from jury service. In short, practically every male adult has the right, under the law as it, stands to-day, to vote at Sanitary Board elections, though we very much doubt whether whose who framed the section realised what wide franchise it conferred. Cer- "Song of Mimi" (La Bohéme).

tainly Mr. SHELTON HOOFER's letter, to which reference has already been made, was startling to most people who had supposed the electorate to be much more restricted thanis really the case. In the short discussion which took place at Tuesday's meeting of the Sanitary Board exception was taken by Dr. FITZWILLIAMS to the proposed exclusion of Naval Officers on full pay from the electorate. He remarked that Hongkong was the biggest Naval station in the East, and expressed the opinion that " with a resident Naval population of the size of that in Hongkong they should either be directly represented or be allowed a voice in the appointment of members of the Board." The argument is more plausible, we think, than convincing. We can hardly regard Naval Officers as residents of Hongkong, excepting perhaps the few attached to the receiving ship Tamar, who remain here and do not flit from port to port with the squadron. Yet we have some recollection of a Sanitary Board election in which a gentleman quite new to the Colony was elected to a seat on the Board by the votes of Naval and Military Officers whose acquaintance with the sanitary problems of the Colony had been even briefer than the candidate's own. Whatever may be said in favour of direct representa- Lhassa, rebelled and looted the treasuries. tion of the Navy on the Board, -and we They confined the Amban till the latter Per case Per of ldes. For some years past it has been the practice of successive Governors to give a seat on the Board to the Principal Medical Officer of the garrison, though this is a departure from expressed intentions when the constitution of the Board was framed. We agree with the Hon. Mr. HEWETT when he said that the proposed change inflicts no hardship on the Navy. Interest in the sanitary problems of the Colony alone would probably not bring a single officer to the polling booth, and it is not surprising that Dr. FITZWELLIAMS found no support for his protest among his colleagues on the Board. In the Bill now before the Council the clause has been so drafted as to exclude all Civil Servants as well as Naval and Military Officers. As the ATTORNEY-GENERAL puts the matter in the "Objects and Reasons" attached to the Bill, "the clause is introduced in order more effectually to carry out the intention of the Legislature, which was to confine the electors of the two elected members of the Sanitary Board to those who are special or

December 19th. SHAMEEN NEWS.

Things are beginning to hum in the social sphere in Shameen and function will succeed function with delirious rapidity during the next few weeks. A start is to be made on Friday when a ball is to be given by the Bachelor Taipans of the island.

On Boxing Day sports are being held on the recreation ground, while a performance is to given in the theatre at night by the Amateur Dramatic Society; and arrangements are well forward for the British Bachelors' Ball on New Year's night.

Misplaced or not as the case may be, certain it is that great confidence is placed in Wong Si Lun, and backed by this he has every chance to keep order in the city and suburbs at least.

RIVER AND CITY QUIET.

No news of any robberies or piracies in the delta have come to hand for reversa days, and it would seem that the patrolling of the river, together with the distribution of troops in the affected areas and the exodus of "Volunteers' for the North'is having the desired effect for the present. On the new Bund along the river front are still quartered hundreds of soldiers with their headquarters at the Admiralty, and in open spaces here and there newly-enlisted troops are to be seen daily being initiated into the intricacies of military drill and discipline. Everything is quiet, and apart from this the streets present their usual appearance.

OBITUARY.

The death occurred very suddenly at Lung Shan of the Rev. Dr. Greene, of the American Baptist Mission. Dr. Greene was a native of South Carolina and was the oldest missionary in China, having been out here for more then fortyyears. He appeared in his usual high-spirits on Saturday, but died very suddenly at the tiffin table. The mission field in Chius is very much the poorer by his loss.

THE REVOLUTION.

THE SITUATION DESCRIBED.

A correspondent from the North sends us the following account of the state of affairs on the Yangtere : General Ling, the commander of the Rovolutionary Forces, entired Nanking at 11 o'clock on Saturday morning, December 2nd. For several days previous his forces had been gradually surrounding the ancient capital of China, and when by the bravery of his troops he occupied Purple Hill on the afternoon of the lat December it was obvious that it was only a matter of time for Nanking to fall. The fighting at Purple Hill was of a desporate character, the Imperialists not hoisting the white flag until the Revolutionaries were practically within bayonet thrust of their entreuchments.

General Chang, the Manchu commander of Nanking, escaped during the night with most of the Manchus who had not previously fled, and left the control of the situation to a purely Chinese colonel, who afterwards surrendered himself and all his forces to the Revolutionaries.

A careful search is being made up and down the river for General Chang, and it is generally believed that if he be captured his life will certainly not be spared. His actual position is rather obscure, though it is generally supposed that he escaped over the Pukow and Tientsin .

The surrender of the city was made quite peaceably. Very few people lest their lives, and those who did were mostly looters taking advantage of the peculiar situation in the Manchu district of Nanking. It is estimated by those about one thousand men killed and wounded on either side was the tell of human life for this great victory for the progressive Chiusse of the South against the conservative forces of the North. This surrender practically sounds the knell of the Manchu dynasty.

Immediately on the fall of this stronghold the river fleet formerly under the command of Admiral Sah divided into two columns. The smaller vessels returned to Chinking, presumably to help to guard the celebrated Silver Island Channel against attempt on the part of war vessels still attached to the Peking Government from entering the river, while the larger cruisers steamed full speed up the river to assist the great leader at Wuchang, General Yuan Hung. in his desperate attempt to recapture Hangyang and probably to end this thrilling episode in Chinese history.

At Hankow, however, probably owing to the effect of conflicting reports upon both the Imperialist and the Revolutionary authorities. an armistice of fifteen days has been agreed upon in the hope that some satisfactory solution of the exceedingly difficult problem of Chinese government may be arrived at. Few, if any think that peace will be the outcome, as the cardinal principle of the Revolutionaries is the complete ab lication of the Manchu dynasty, and the Imperialists consider this impossible.

The capture of Hanyang Hill was not so bloody as was at first thought, the revised estimates being not more than a thousand killed on either side. The hill would probably not have been captured had fresh troops from Wuchang been ready to relieve the exhausted revolutionary soldiers who for four days courageously kept the Imperialist forces at bay. The Imperialists are placing six-inch siege guns on the top of Han Hill to batter down the town of Wuchang opposite it on the other side of the Yangtsze-kiang, and General Li is occapying entrenched positions with the rebels at the back of the town and just clear of the artillery fire.

The position is actually one of stalemate, and it is difficult to see how for some time either side will be able to make any move.

TERRIBLE SCENES IN PAKHOL THE REIGN OF BRIGANDS.

The following extract from a private letter from Pakhoi, dated December 8, has been communicated to the N.-C. Daily News:-It has been unusually exciting down here of late, as we have been in the hands of brigands and pirates and the whole district has been looted. You can imagine what a harvest these times are to the scoundrels, who have now plundered, looted and burned down a greater portion of each city in the district. Linchow City has, perhaps, fared the worst; for in addition to being plundered some 5,000 brigands, the place was burned down and hundreds of women ravished. ... it was most pitiful to see the best class of Chinese ladies, panicstriken, endeavouring to walk to Pakhoi on their small feet, where they were again brutalized on the road, and on arrival here begging protection from door to door. Foreign houses are the only safe refuges here and hundreds are begging to be allowed in. Pakhoi is also in the hands of brigands. All shops have closed doors, and looting is going on in open day. The merchants have hired a great number of sampans in which to store cargo. These sampans are then anchored far out in the harbour, but it makes no difference, they are pirated just the same. Different bands of brigands are constantly coming in and going off again with loot. Yesterday'a band of brigands captured about twenty-five girls here and carried them off. Later the scoundrels were attacked by a stronger band of brigands who killed a lot of the first, band, including some of the girls, who were later brought back to Pakhoi on wheel-barrows, dead. And executions-that's the order of the day now. Witnessed six being despatched three days ago. It was a sickening sight. . . . The scene has changed now, for the two victims yesterday were not executed, but shot, and you may judge the strength of the firing party when I tell you that ten guns were unable to despatch one man. One shot tearing away a portion of the face, another smashing up the knee, another a portion of the arm, and so on, and the poor wretch was left writhing on the ground in agony. Wholesome, is it not?

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

" THE DEMANDS OF THE PARTIES.

The following extracts from a letter reveived at Shanghai from Peking are published in the N.-C. Daily News :-Since the abdication of the Prince Regent political events have been moving rapidly.

This abdication seems to be one of the first instalments by Yuan to Li Yuan-hung which. had to be granted before any real negotiations could be of any value to the two parties and the country in general. PRELIMINARY PROPOSALS.

Other demands are stated to be as follow; . 1. The removal of General Feng Kuo-chang from Hanyang. (This has been granted and in the Edict he appears as being delegated to Chabar-or Chakhary, i.e., on the north. border of Chili-and I think, with his headquarters at Lamamiao.). The removal of the court to Jehol, You will remember that I mentioned in one of my letters the significant appointment of Ex-Viceroy Hsi Liang to that city as Governor. Under ordinary conditions this appointment would be looked upon as the shelving of anofficial, but with the expectation of the Empress-Dowager's court being transferred to that city, this office is magnified.

of quarters at Lamamiao). (It is noted he goes, without his new title

3. The members of the last Cabinet to be punished, from Prince Ching downwards, and also some of the Viceroys, including Jui Cheng and Chao Erh-feng (Szechuan), etc. Yuan Shih-kai has stated repeatedly, that, failing what he has already offered the opposing party, he had something to offer them which would probably satisfy them, and during these few weeks of pourparlers, which have undoubtedly been going on between these two principal men. Yuan has come to the conclusion that in the face of their victory at Hanyang all the odds were against him. He has been effectively blocked in his endeavours to secure foreign loans, the dependencies are well nigh slipping through their fingers, if not into the hands of foreign Powers, at least becoming autonomous counties, and, if in that position they should be worried overmuch by the Peking authorities, they might claim to be protected by some neighbouring Power.

DELEGATES AND DEMANDS. With the first and second demand satisfied, the selection of delegates to go to Wuchang was soon completed, being led by such men as Tang Shao-yi, as President, and Yen Hsiu, Minister of Posts and Communications, and Yang Shih-chi, Minister of Finance, and with them twenty-one delegates representing the twenty-one provinces, including the three eastern ones, and also Si Yu, representing Mongolia. In the Shanghai papers Tang Shao-yi is usually put down for the Minister of Posts and Communications, but this is not so in reality. He was not mentioned in the new Cabinet, but it was understood that when he appeared on the scene an intportant post would be given him, either the one just mentioned or in the Waiwupu. Buthe has accepted none, having found for himself more important duties to perform just

Tang Shao-yi goes to meet the revolutionary party armed with full plenipotentiary powers, and as such untrammelled, for once in history, by the court and its satellites. He carries the following demands stated hands of the President of the Council.

The President of the Council shall be elected by the people and shall have the same prerogative as a President of a Republic. Upon these conditions sthe autonomy of the provinces shall be recognized. LI Yuan-hung's demands lare:

The pension to the Manchus will crase automatically with the coffers for that purpose empty, and would have ended ere this but for the seasonable assistance of Prince Ching and others who gave sufficient funds to last two months. It will thus end in about one month. It is thought that this good deed of the Prince saved the city serious troubles at a time whea the people were very apprehensive. *

Yuan Shih-kai's strong hand was felt in the Government offices in that all those who fled from their offices in a state of panic were discharged, and the salaries of the great company who think it a small thing to show themselves but seldom in office were docked

Cheng Kuei-lung, Viceroy of Chili, wrote to Yuan Shih-kai asking that General Chang Hsün, of Nanking, should be effectively stopped from coming north, as this barbarian butcher and his wild men of the Hunghutze class were bent on pillaging and lopting the innocent people, and that this brute's favourite pastime was of that character.

THE CORNER IN SILVER.

A London paper of the 25th ult. says :-

The group which is manipulating the Silver

Market have cornered the market for over a l formight, with the result-that the immediate. f quotation for the metal is about Ad. per ounce above that for forward delivery. Such a condition of things is quite-unnatural, and means that the bull party have caught the bears short of the metal for immediate delivery at an awkward moment. Regarding the struggle between these two groups of operators there is little to say, as in all probability they are able to take care of themselves. Meantime business in the market is rendered difficult for ordinary dealers, and as a result of the squeeze a good deal of silver has been shipped from China to India. Underlying the campaign favour of higher prices for the white metal is the belief that the Indian Government will have this season to come in and buy silver for coinage purposes. At this time of the year no one can afford to be dogmatic about such an event, and no doubt the holding of silver in the Indian Currency Department, which is now only about 234 crores against some 30 crores at the corresponding period last year, is a point in favour of such a present total added to the 3 crores in the drowned Chinamen, near the Woosung Gold Standard Reserve, is still important, and that recent arrivals of gold in India have fed to considerable additions to the note issue, which notes have been retained in circulation. Another factor, which is apt to be ignored in considering the matter, may prove of weight, and that is the large balances held by the Indian Treasury. the end of October these amounted to over 16 crores, which if 5 crores are considered to be in the shape of notes, still leaves 'r to 12 crores in silver rupces, and if would be quite possible for the Government, as it has done before, to transfer some of the gold from the Currency Department in exchange for silver rupees. Those well informed consider that quite 3 to 4 crores could be so transferred out of the present total, and

A WINDFALL FOR A MESSENGER. As a result of the final appeal to the Court of Appeal in Berlin an ordinary office messenger wins through to a legacy of close on a million, left to him by an eccentric millionaire merchant named Heinrich Moersel, who died in 1908 at Kinochow. Moersel was a native of Danzig who went made up his mind to leave his wealth in German hands, he made prolonged inquiries. as to the worthiest member of the Moersel family. Immediately, as in human nature it appeared to have been under the impression was inevitable, all the other relatives set to that the temple was the headquarters of a work to contest the will. They entered a plea that it was 'irregular and based their arguments on the fact that another document referred to the will as a "copy," This other document was in English, and while the relatives contended that the word meant that the will was not the original document, the defending lawyer argued that the word was used loosely by one who was not English and meant also "duplicate" or " specimen." In that sense it merely indicated. that the millionaire had taken the precaution. to have a duplicate copy. This view the Court, of Appeal has taken and the messenger and his sisters and mother are now happy in their unexpected fortune.

CHINESE PORK.

Though the Local Government Boar. medical officer has given Chinese pork a clean bill of health, that peculiar organ of public opinion, John Bull, run by the one and only Horatio Bottomley, seeks to keep the unsavoury discussion alive. The last issue of the paper says :- "The Local Government Board authority, who is so enthusiastic about Chinese pig as an article of diet in this country; may be interested in the experience of a reader who served for some time on a gunboat up the Yangtseview. But it should be remembered that the kiang. - He says the sight of pigs eating forts, put him and others off pork. Up rive the pig was no better. THE NEAR BAST: And indeed financial houses have need to be cautious of foreign enterprises just now. There is still ample room for developments out of the Turco-Italian war in Eripoli and many are disposed to-think well of Turkey's chances. But, apart from that, there are dangerous signs affoat as to further extension of the area of disturbance. Greece has sent a strong remonstrance to the Italian into the China trade, married a Chinese wife government against the presence of Italian and amassed a fortune. But back in Berlin | warships in Greek and neighbouring waters, he had several relatives, and, as he had and several instances have been given of Greek vessels being interfered with. True, Greece is not likely to aid the Turk, but in the dangerous state of opinion in Greece, where the Cretan question continues to inflame the public mind, a very little added heat would set them going on the Tuckish frontier with results that would set the whole of the Near East in a blaze.

It would appear that some of the landowners of Ireland, believing that Home Rule is close at hand, are taking steps to get clear of Ireland rather than live under a Parliament in Dublin. According to my information he has instructed estate agents in Dublin and London to be on the look out for a suitable tenant in the event of Home Rule materialising. The men having been brought to Yokohama, Governor Sufu reported the particulars to the Tokyo Government. Captain David T. Cally, of the Benvorlich, has now been decorated by the Imperial Bureaucof Decorations with the Medal of the Red Ribbon in recognition of chivalrons service rendered in spite of the heavy seas sweeping his vessel at the time. The medal was handed by Governor Sufu, at the Kencho, to a representative of Messrs. Cornes & Co., of Yokohama, local agents of the line, with a request that it be handed over to the Captain.

EXHAUSTION. IN METHOD OF CURING NEURASTHENIA.

Although Neurasthenia is a term of quite modern use, and embraces a very great num ber of symptoms, nervous exhaustion is a condition which has long been known.

Among the commonest symptoms are head-ache, a sense of pressure, within the head, sometimes a feeling of cold on the top of the head, and, at others, as if an iron band were pressing into the brain. These sensations are particularly apt to occur when the sufferer endeavours to concentrate his thoughts for a little while. Again, there is marked indigestion and loss of appetite, with pain in the region of the stomach, heartburn, nausch or vomiting, sleeplessness, a feeling of oppression, shortness of breath or palpitation of the heart, nervous twitchings of the hands, and an uncertain gait with pains in the back which; happily, do not mean locomotor ataxy any more than the feeling of pressure on the head denotes softening of the brain, as sufferes invariably

All these nervous sensations are capable of being remarkably improved, and even perfeetly cured, by means of Sanatogen. The medical evidence on this point is exceedingly large and overwhelmingly conclusive. In fact, no sufferer from neurosthenia, in whatever form the nervous exhaustion may manifest itself, need have the last cause for despair or even anxiety if only he will take Sanatogen and keep on with it. No more striking proof of its wonderful power can be desired than is set forth by Madame Sarah Grand, the distinguished novelist, who was incapacitated for work for four years by nervous exhaustion, and after taking i three times a day for four months was as well as she had ever been in her life. Here are Madame Sarah Grand's own words :-" Sanatogen has done everything for me which it is said to be able to do for cases of nervous debility and exhaustion. I began to take it, three times a day, after nearly four years? enforced idleness from extreme debility, and now (after only four months)

I find myself able to enjoy both work and play again, and also able to do as much of both as I ever did."

Sanatogen can be obtained at all chemists. 105-412

NOTES AND NEWS.

SENTENCED TO CARRY THE BABY. A Chicago labourer, Patrick Knight, charged by his wife with leaving her without support; has been ordered to return home and walk the floor for two hours each night with his baby in his arms. This odd sentence, the London Daily Chronicle says, was passed in the Court of Domestic Relations, which is doing such excellent work in the way of clearing up minor domestic squabbles, and reconciling estranged couples. The neglected wife came to the court with a fine healthy baby in her arms, and as soon as Judge Sabath saw it, he ordered the husband to take the child while he "talked. matters over" with the wife. The baby seemed perfectly satisfied with the change, and caressed his father's face, so that the judge promptly said: ""That's better. You can't be such a bad husband and father, so I'll fix you right away. I sentence you to go home with your wife and walk the floor with that baby for two hours every night until December 20. Besides that, you will turn your wages over to your wife every pay day, and on December 20 you can come round here and tell me what kind of Christmas presents you are going to buy for your wife and baby."

A LARGE SUGAR MILL. The largest mill yet constructed for the crushing of sugar cane has just been completed by Messrs. John M'Neill and Co., of Govan. It can deal with 1,500 tons of cane daily, and has been built to the order of a German firm for work in the Argentine: Altogether the plant weighs about 1,100 tens. It consists of 14 rollers, in the form of a combination of fourthree-roller mills preceded by a pair of prepara-tory crusher-rollers. All are connected by gearing, driven by two horizontal steam engines. The preparatory rollers are each 3ft in diameter and 7ft. in length, andhave deep, circumferential and diagonal grooves.

The mill proper consists of the four three-reller mills, with rollers 40in, in diameter and 7ft in length. The top rollers are fitted with hydraulic appliances at both ends, the rams being 15 in, in diameter and having a working pressure of 12 tons per sq. in. The cane carrier for feeding the mill is 200 ft. in length, and is driven by a twin-cylinder engine through triple gear-ing. The speed of the rollers is from 20ft, to 26ft., per minute. The power for driving the full plant is obtained from two single-cylinder, non-condensing steam engines. These have cylinders 32in, in diameter and 60in, stroke, and they are designed for a working pressure of 120lb. per sq. in.

NEW INDUSTRIES AT QUEENSFERT. It appears certain that several new industries of an engineering character are to be established at North and South Queensferry. Beference has already been made to the proposals to open a small shipbuilding yard at North Queensferry. These, it is understood, emanate from a well-known West Coast engineering firm. It is now stated that an attempt was made to utilize the disused harbour and old pier known as Port Edgar, situated about a mile west of South Queensferry. They were inspected by the company, but the inspection showed that the expense of dredging away the large accumulation of silt would be too heavy, so the idea of establishing works there was abandoned. It is also stated that the Admiralty officials have been considering the advisability of using Port Edgar as a base for the supplying of oil fuel to warships lying in the Forth. Pipes could be led down to the pier from oil-works situated not very far inland, and the vessels would obtain their fuel much more conveniently than at Granton, whither they go at present. Port Edgar is some distance above the Forth Bridge, and is, therefore, within the protective radius of the new dockyard at Rosyth.

WISHES FOR THE CHANCELLORSHIP. The first person to ask to have his name egistered at the new Labour Exchange at the Cardiff Docks was the Deputy-Lord Mayor of Cardiff. He applied for a post as Chancellor of the Exchequer, stating he had no actual experience of the work. Being a married man, he was willing to accept work at a distance, and his only qualifications were put down as Baptist and angler." This card was filled in by Mr. Rey, general manager of Labour Exchanges, who added in the 'remarks' column, "Emin-ently suitable for the position," and handed the applicant a card, with the intimation that he must call every Wednesday, otherwise his name would be erased from the books. The Deputy-Lord Mayor assured him that he would obey the instrutions.

AMERICAN'S VIEW OF THE BRITISHER. Mr. Ernest H. Stolz, a young American business man, now in London, writing in the Express says :-

"As a business man myself it is natural that I should wish to view at close quarters the business methods prevailing on this side, and I feel bound to say that they lose nothing by comparison with our methods at home n the States. I like the British methods of doing business. There is something solid and substantial about them. The solidity of the banking concerns, the railroads, and the great commercial firms is obvious, and makes for a clear and perfect understanding between two great nations. . . From a business point of view the idea that the Britisher is slow is rapidly being relegated to the beliefs which have been forgotten. During my stay on this occasion, and also when I paid a very brief visit a little while ago, I was very considerably impressed by the clear-headedness combined with the disnified manner in which business was transacted in this country, and I am quite sure all Americans will bear me out when I say that one may go far to fled those who will treat one more courteously, fairly, and with stricter regard to business etiquette than is the case in Great Britain. If I were to analyse the matter a little more I should say that the Britisher gets to the goal with less trouble, less fuss, and less work than is usually the case with men, and this must be the reason, in no small degree lwby it is that the British lead the commerce of the world ._.

> MALACCA RUBBER CAPITAL INCREASE.

In their report for 1910 the directors of the Malacca Rubber Plantations (Limited) state that a great change has recently taken place in planting practice in the sense that the stumping and removal of all old jungle timber is now considered an essential condition of estate management, as it largely ensures immunity from disease and increased economy in the upkeep of the estates.

The whole of the company's planted area of about 15,000 acres has been thus treated. This, the directors point out, has involved a very heavy expenditure during 1910 and the current year, which has been chiefly met out of revenue. In order to adjust this expenditure on capital account arrangements have been made for the issue of 10,000 ordinary shares (of £1 each) at £15 per share, the subscribers having the option for five years of taking four further ordinary shares, at the same price, for each share subscribed.

Inst year by the Secretary of State for India as Departmental Committee, with the following To formulate in detail an organized scheme for the institution in London of a School of Oriental Languages upon the lines recommended in the report of Lord Reay's Committee of 1909.

The following were appointed members of the Committee:—Lord Cromer (chairman), Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the Lord Mayor (Sir John Knill), Sir Charles Hardinge (Permanent Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs), Sir Charles Lyall, Dr. H. Frank Heath, and Mr. P. J. Hartog (secretary). Sir C. Hardinge, now Lord Hardinge of Penhurst, retired from the Committee on his appointment as Governor-General of India, and was succeeded by Sir Arthur Nicolson; and Sir John Knill retired on the Nicolson; and Sir John Knill retired on the expiration of his year of office, being succeeded by the late Lord Mayor, Sir T. Vezey Strong. The report is dated June 14, 1911, and is signed by Lord Cromer, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, Sir T. Vezey Strong, Sir A. Nicolson, Sir C. J.

Lyall, Dr. Heath, and Mr. P. J. Hartog. The interim report states that the Committee regarded their task as twofold—first, to propose a detailed scheme for the material establishment of the School; and, secondly, to propose a detailed scheme for its management when established. It has been suggested that it might be possible for the site and buildings of the London Institution to be utilized for the purposes of the new School, and the question of suitability has been inquired into. Dr. Heath and Mr. Hartog have prepared a detailed report upon the matter and have obtained architects' plans from Professor F. M. Simpson, F.R.I.B.A., which are annexed to the present

The Committee are unanimously of opinion that taking into account not only the academic but also the commercial need; which the School of Oriental Studies is intended to supply, it would be difficult to find a site with greater advantages than that of the London Institution, and they are also of opinion that, subject to certain modifications, Professor Simpson's plans would provide convenient and misfactory accommodation for the new School at the outset. Appended to the report is a note embodying certain suggestions in regard to these plans. The Committee say :-

"We desire to emphasise the fact that the value of the site of the London Institution cannot be estimated at less than £100,000, and that at a cost of some £20,000 or £25,000 the existing buildings could be adapted for the new School. The site and buildings of the Berlin School of Oriental Studies were provided at Government expense at a cost of over £50,000. The estimated annual expenditure for domestic and administrative staff and establishment expenses of the School, if placed at the London Institution, amounts to £1,000 is for rates and taxes; and £1,500 is for maintaining Kinsha, river gunboat, 616 tons, i.h.p. 1,200, the existing library of the London Institution, containing 200,000 volumes, in addition to a more specialized library of Oriental books required for the School, Lord Reay's. Committee estimated the library expenses of the School at 2425 per annum; so that over £1,000 of the total expenditure on the library must be set library of the Institution. The total expenses set down by Lord Reay's Committee under the headings here considered (and set down in their report, section 40, as library and administrative expenses) amount to £2,625. If we subtract from our own estimate of £4,000 the sum of £1,075, due to the expense of carrying on the present London Institution Library, the difference between our own figures and those of Lord Reay's Committee is reduced to £300 per of the director and teaching staff, estimated by Lord Reay's Committee to amount to £10,100, is one which does not directly come within the purview of the present interim report.

In regard to the question of the constitution of the governing body, we do not desire to say more at present than that we are of opinion that it would be desirable to establish the School under a Royal Charter.

The negotiations with the committee of management and proprietors of the London Institution must, of course, primarily be conducted by his Majesty's Government, but, in order to save time, we have ventured to send a copy of this report unofficially to the President of the Institution, and we shall be happy to do whatever lies in our power to assist in bringing the negotiations to a satisfactory conclusion.

Included in the Appendices to the report are some notes on the library supplied by Mr. Frazer, the present librarian of the Institution, which show that a large number of the books. deal with the antiquities, the history and geo. graphy, language, and literature of the countries which fell within the purview of the School of Oriental Studies.

Nothing creates such a good impression is

TOREIGN MISSIONS INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE.

The recently appointed regreign Mission Investigation Committee of the international Bible Students. Association, which since its progress across the Sea of Japan, is now its appointment has been holding sessions at the Walderf-Asteria Hotel, New York, is Hokkaido. composed of the following members: Gen. William P. Hall, U.S.A., Washington, D.C.; Dr. Leslie W. Jones, Chicago; Robert B. Maxwell, Mansfield, Ohio; Prof. F. H. Robison, Ontario, Canada; J. T. D. Pyles, Washington, D. C.; Ernest W. V. Kuchn, Toledo, Ohio; and Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, the latter being appointed Chairman, and Prof. Robison Secretary.

These gentlemen have been commissioned to make a tour into Japan, China, Philippine Islands, Siam, India, Arabia and Africa, to impartially investigate and report to the Association and the general public on the following points:

1,--Are the Foreign Missions being conlucted on business-like, Christian lines? 2.-To what extent are the methods adopted successful in reaching the beather people, and in bringing them to Christianity? 3.-What are the idachings, and inducements presented to accept Christianity, and how enduring are the results? 4.—What is the attitude of Heathendom towards the Missionaries, and Christianity, and what are the prospects for Foreign Missions becoming self-sustaining?

5.-What, if any, changes could be suggesed in teaching or in financial administration to make the Foreign Mission work more successful in the future? 6.- What hope is there for the conversion of the world in this generation as proposed by the Laymen's Missionary movement with its thirty-million dollar endowment? 7.—To what extent does the money donated benefit the Heathen, and could any improvement along this line be suggested? In explanation of this unprecedented action, it was stated that millions of dollars. are annually spent in Foreign Missionary activity, and many members of the Association thought it well to appoint a Committee, chiefly laymen, business men who contribute, to make a tour of investigation on these points, and report the facts as they find them to exist. The personnel of the Committee assures the Association of a full and impartial report, no matter how unfavourable it might be to some. The Conimittee was to start on its round-the-world tour from San Francisco about December

> SHIPPING OF THE UNITED KINGDOM.

GENERAL INCREASE OF TONNAGE. The annual statement of the navigation and shipping of the United Kingdom for the year 1910, with comparative tables for the years from 1906, has been issued as a Blue-book [Cd. 5840] With regard to foreign trade, the abstract tables show that last year 26,315 British steam and sailing vesse's entered our ports with cargoes, the net tonnage being 29,121,534, whilet those with carroes and in ballast numbered 37,961, of 39,641,620 to anage. A slight decrease is shown in the figures as compared with the provious year as regards vessels with cargo and in ballost -- 38,121 vessels of 39,661,660 tons-but the two years show an increase over those of 1908, when the vessels numbered 37,516, the tonuage being 38,889,588. Though there was an increase in the number of vessels and tonnage entered with cargoes last year, in 1909, when the number (26 246) was less than in 1908 (26,253), the tonnage (28,355,694) was greater than in the previous year, when it amounted to 23,051,164. The tables relating to foreign shipping show that in 1910 32,636 vessels entered with cargoes and in ballast, of a note tonuage of 27,018,829, while in 1909, though the vessels totalled 33,169, the tonnage was but 26,647 859. This disparity is still further marked by the larger number of vessels (33,829) given as entering in 1908, the tonpage then being 26,579,469. The figures for foreign yessels with cargoes for the three years are:-1903, 20,485 vessels of 12,138,801 tons 1909, 19,978 vessels of 11,960,109 tons; and 1910, 20,027 resels of 12,497,131 tons. The figures for res cl. cleared show that against a total of 46,342 y scals entered last year with cargoes of tonnag's amounting to .41,618,665, vessels cleared numbered 69,421 with tonnages of 57,326,948. The coasting trade showed no such fluctuations in figures, the increases being steadily maintained for the past three years both in respect to the number of vessels entered and the tonnages. The numbers of sailing and steam vessels remaining on the registers at ports in the United Kingdom (including the Isle of Man and Chanuel Islands) and other British Possessio s at the close of the three years under review again reveal continuous increases, though last year there was a decline in the figures relating to the United Kingdom as compared with the previous year. The total number of vessels on the register at the close of 1908 was 38,608, of a combined tonnage of 13,253,354; in 1901 38,798 vessels, 13,348,013 tonnage; and last year 38,928 vessels. 13,361,988 tonnage. There was a decline of 99 vessels registered in tonnage being 30,215 A table dealing with vessels on the register classified according to age and net tonnage shows that there still remain on the register 353 sailing vessels, of net tonuage of 19.480, and nine steam vessels (net tounage 1,355) constructed in 1850 or earlier. The number of fishing boats registered has continuously declined since 1908, when there were 25,757, till last year the number was 24,982. The number of persons employed on 14,440 vessels last year was 276,306 (201,910 British, 43,934 Lascars, the United Kingdom in 1910, the decrease in

WORKSHOPS: REPAIR ELECTRO-PLATING OBSERVATION POINT, WANCHAI.

The Electro-Plating Works laid down some years ago have proved a distinct success, both in the high quality of work expeditionaly turned out and also in the fact that our clients are saved considerable delay and HEAVY EXPENSE in sending home tarnished metal ware for replating.

This VARIABLE AND DAMP CLIMATE will cause both silver and electro-plated metal to tarnish, therefore why allow such eyesores, when it is possible to make equal to now at small cost.

The Workshp Plant has recently been considerably enlarged with additional facilities. for BRONZING, ANTIQUE COPPER, OXYDIZED SILVER and other fancy finishes. SHIPS' FITTINGS.

It is hardly necessary to dilate on the great convenience to shipping firms, in the -knowledge that Saloon, Cabin or Deck Fittings, dinner services, etc., can be made equal to new in the shortest time at reasonable cost.

HOUSE AND SHOP FITTINGS.

Dinner Services, Ornaments, Shop Rails and Fittings, etc., all need attention in the course of time, and the benefits of local remedy again appeal strongly.
